The London News has undoubted authority for saying that although her Majesty finds it impossible for her and the Prince Consort to pay a visit to Canada, a short interval only will elapse before one of the young Princes will so there.

The wounded members of the Gouldy family are now considered out of danger, and, with the exception of Mr. Gouldy, are able to be about the house. Mr. Gouldy is gaining rapidly, and his complete recovery is confidently looked for.

A letter from Buenos Ayres, in the Havre Journal, states that the bishop of that place has excommunicated all Freemasons, and declared their doctrines incompatible with those of the Catholic Church. In consequence of this, the clergy have exhorted from the pulpit the wives and children of Freemasons to quit them, and servants to denounce them.

A LUCKY OLD MAN .- John Brobst, an old man, living in Cumberland county, Maryland, had just been discovered to be the rightful owner of a large tract of mineral land in the heart of the richest region of Pennsylvania, worth $8,000,000. He has sold out all his right and title for $2,600,000. THE EPIDEMIC OF 1858 AT NEW ORLEANS .- The Yellow Fever has about ceased its ravages at New Orleans, after prevailing with more or less severity since July. During the period extending from June 20 to Nov. 21, the official reports of interments show that the deaths in the city amounted to 8296, of which 4850 were of Yellow Fever, and 3446 of other

The emancipation of the serfs in Russia is now, in so far as regards the capital, an "accomplished fact." The suburb of Ochta, of which both the land and the inhabitants were formerly the property of the Admiralty, has now been fully enfranchised, and at the late municipal elections for that district upwards of 3000 who had formerly been held in bondage came forward to claim their privileges as freemen.

A Government oil contract, for 60,000 gallons winter sperm, at $1 214, has been taken by an Edgarton (Mass.) house.

The sailor Austin, one of the parties charged with firing the whaleship Cortez, has tamed a mouse in his cell in the Boston jail. The Journal says, the little animal occasionally emerges from the pocket of Austin's jacket, while he is in the Court-room, takes a run over his head and shoulders, takes a look at the Court and counsel, and apparently satisfied that all is right, retires to his retreat.

Bonner keeps up his Ledger advertising, by the half column, column, newspaper and page, spending not less than $350,000 a year on his newspaper. Nothing could better illustrate the advantages of advertising. Stephen Gerard once said,—"I have always considered advertising—liberally and long—to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude of wealth. And I have made it the rule, too, to advertise in the dullest times, a long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out—as by keeping my business continually before the public, it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost."

SENATOR DOUGLAS.—One of the principal topics of speculation at Washington now, is, how Senator Douglas will bear the affront put on him by the administration, in assigning him the second place on the Committee on Territories. It is fully apparent that there can be no truce between Douglas and chanan. One or the other must succumb at last, and it seems pretty evident that whoever will, Dou-glas won't. The bitterness of this warfare will not be confined to Washington; letter-writers assert that every effort is making to ensure his defeat in the Legislature of Illinois; and it looks as if Douglas would have one more hard fight, at least, before his next Senatorial election is secured.

THE CASE OF CAPT. KIBLING .- The case of Capt. Kibling, who was held to answer in a suit for embezzlement brought by the owners of bark N. S. Perkins, of which he was lately master, Wednesday underwent a series of transformations. At 9 o'clock in the morna series of transformations. At 9 o'clock in the morning, Capt. K., who had previously made an assignment of all his property and effects for the benefit of all his property and effects for the benefit of all his creditors, took the poor debtor's oath in due form, with a view to obtaining an immediate release from confinement. Notice of application for a review of the proceedings, was however given by the counsel for the plaintiffs in the suit, and he was held in custody to await the result of a second hearing in the matter, to be had within fifteen days from the date of application.

The will of man is his great prerogative; to all mediums I say, therefore, exert it! Assert your manhood; resist the influence. Beat back this dark and unknown power. I know that many of you, like Macbeth.

Within an hour or two after the conclusion of these proceedings, the United States Marshal for this disproceedings, the United States Marshal for this disproceedings. trict, presented himself at the county jail with a warrant for the arrest of Capt. Kibling, charging him with having feloniously sold the property belonging to the bark N. S. Perkins, and requiring his presence to answer before the United States District Court.

The captain was taken in charge by the Marshal and was Wednesday afternoon conveyed to Hartford for trial. In case of a conviction for the offence charged against him, the extreme penalty would be imprisonment for ten years. The case is now in both the State of State courts: in the latter in the shape the Federal and State courts; in the latter in the shape of a civil action for embezzlement, and in the former as a criminal proceedation.—N. L. Chronicle.

Lown Narish's Recall.—It is pretty well under-tood that Lord Napier is to be recalled from Wash-ngton, and it is said that he is to be sent to the lague. If he reads and believes our American ournals, he must be estisfied that he ought to leave

THE TRIAL OF MONTALEMBERT.-The trial and The Trial of Montalembert, in Paris, is the allengrossing topic of the day in Europe. The only offence he is alleged to have committed, is that of writing a review of the proceedings of the British Parliament in relation to India. That debate, as our readers will remember, was characterized by great freedom of expression, and a critical exposure of the wrongs to which the Indies have long been exposed.
This freedom Montalember subsided This freedom Montalembert eulogized, and warmly commended the institutions of the country in which commended the institutions of the country in which such liberties of speech were allowed. Not a word was said of France, her Emperor or government. But, in the opinion of Napoleon, to laud England was to defame France. He saw that readers would make a comparison not altogether favorable to the strictness of his censorship, and hence Montalembert was inferentially judged guilty of a crime, and sentenced to pay a fine of three thousand frances and be imprisoned six months.

imprisoned six months. The method of the trial is also interesting, as showing the dread the Emperor entertains of public opinion.

None were allowed to appear in court without first obtaining tickets of admission, which were granted only on condition that no note should be made of the proceedings. A special police had orders to enforce these regulations. Still, the truth leaked out, and the consequent indignation is represented to be greatly aroused. We may readily credit the existence of such a feeling, for it is scarcely credible to us how human nature can endure, with the meekness manifested by the French people, such a weight of con-tumely and shame as Louis Napoleon has heaped upon them. The physical prosperity enjoyed under his rule, and the dread of something worse, are, however, the narcotic influences that for the present lull them to quietness. But the waking hour must come. We have yet faith in the future of France, and confidently expect, when her sober and thoughtful maturity is come, to see her cramped energies expand under the liberty of free institutions.— Wor. Trans. with more frankness than wisdom says: "Let the Democratic party become, in its organization, as it

Spiritualist Turning Evidence.

Among other very remarkable events which have lately let in the light of day upon the iniquities of the spiritualistic scheme, is the conversion of Dr. Randolph, who for ten years was a believer, and a medi-He has delivered a discourse, in New York, which we find reported in some of the papers of that city. He has become a Christian, and writing from his present point of view, and with ten years of personal experience, he more than justifies every charge we have made against Spiritualism. We give two or three extracts from this remarkable exposure, partly to show how real were the grounds of our denunciation of its wickedness and folly, and partly as a warning, if warning is still needed to those who are still disposed to look favorably upon its monstrous

I enter the arena, says he, as the champion of com-mon sense, against what in my soul 1 believe to be the most tremendous enemy of God, morals and religion that ever found footbold on the earth,—the ost seductive, hence most dangerous form of sensualism that ever cursed a nation, age or people.

I was a medium about eight years, during which time I made three thousand speeches, and traveled over several different countries, proclaiming the new Gospel. I now regret that so much excellent breath was wasted, and that my health of mind and body was well nigh ruined. I have only begun to regain both since I totally abandoned it, and to day had rather see the cholera in my house than bea Spiritual medium! For years I have lived alone for Spiritualism and its cognates. Henceforth I have to combat many of the identical doctrines that I once accepted as heavenly truths, among which are Pantheism, the non-immortal theory, ultra radical individual sovereignity, Atheism, and several other pernicious doc-

The following are some of the effects of Spiritual-

Five of my friends destroyed themselves, and I attempted it by direct Spiritual influences. Every crime in the calendar has been committed by mortal movers of viewless beings! Adultery, fornication, suicides, desertions, unjust divorces, prostitution, destroyed the weak. It has benished peace from happy families, separated husbands and wives, and shattered the intellects of thousands. We hear much of its good, but little is said concerning the black catalogue on the other side, or of mediums driven to premature hell.

The following passage shows Mr. Randolph's opinion of some of the "manifestation:"

When invisible musicians play pianos in dark rooms, if the hands of the mediums be mittened and held by others, and the music still goes on, the interence is that they do not produce it; otherwise, I should be very skeptical concerning spiritual agency.
Writing upside down is an art readily obtained after a few weeks' private practice. Matches or a lump of phosphorous make very good imitations of spirit lights. When spirits in a dark room blow horns and talk through trumpets, if, unknown to the medium, a little printer's ink be rubbed on the mouth of the instrument, a beautiful black circle will, when lights are introduced, generally be found adorning the medium's labial appendages. A little practice ena-bles almost any one to imitate the sawing of wood, by rubbing the side of the table leg with the sole of the shoe. A spring feather, such as adorn ladies heads, can be easily made to pass for a "spirit bird" in a dark room. Ventriloquism is a capital agent in the production of "spirit voices." Dark circles are the king humbugs of Spiritualism generally. Thus I indicate the direction in which to look for, and suggest methods of detecting imposture.

The discourse concludes with the following striking Let me briefly recapitulate my estimate of Pantheistic radical populate Harmonialism. It is godless, non-religious, opposed to the Bible, all ecclesiastical organizations. It is subversive of human dignity and public morals, is destructive of all we hold most dear and cherish most sacredly. It denies immortality to untold thousands. It robs us of faith in Christ without giving us a substitute. It robs us of our refuge of religion, cultivates the intellect at the expense of the heart. It is a masked monster-all brain and no body. It gives us a philosophy, un-sound, and at best merely speculative, cold, cheer-less, selfish, and far-fetched, which gradually fastens itself about the soul, devours the affections, and makes man a locomotive encyclopædia without a heart. It addresses the intellect only, and, as God intended us to feel as well as think, it proves itself anything but the sine qua non. It is a bewitching thing—so is a rattlesnake. At first the neophyte rejoices in his new found freedom, as he falsely supposes it to be. He becomes intoxicated with joy, for a while revels in rainbow-tinted dreams of bliss; is led on step by step, deeper and deeper into a mazy labyrinth of unintelligible and profitless mysteries; emerges only to embark his soul's fortunes in an exploring expedition to the land of shadow; is wrecked on the rocks of doubt, clings to a single plank; dreams on, and not until the cold and chilling fogs of mysticism have frozen his very spirit, does he rouse from his slumber, to find himself on a rough chaotic sea, which, to him, is shoreless, vast and dreary as the icy land of death. He rests upon a single plank; around him roll and roar the black waves of infidelity; above him is a lucid sky, but no God there to save! He has no chart, no pilot to guide nim to the land. Reaction begins, repentance does her work. Fortunate is that soul whose reason is not hopelessly ruined, lost and wrecked; fortunate is that soul that does not recognize its authority as His God, or who, insane, desper ate, alone, heart-wrung and a-weary of the world, does not rush madly to the suicide's grave, and into the awful presence of an insulted God, unanointed and unknelled, with all its imperfections on its devoted head! But, thanks to our God, at the moment of deepest misery, His hand-maiden, Religion, steps down from her rosy throne, and calls to his trembling soul; he may hear if he will. She enters the bark of safety; reaches the sinner ere the black tide engulphs his last and only hope, conveys him to the shore of Truth, sets his feet upon the firm rock of eternal ages; binds up his bleeding wounds, feeds him with the bread of life; warms him in the sunshine of

"Pull in resolution; and begin
To doubt the equivocations of the fiend
That lies like truth: 'Fear not till Birnam's Shall come to Dunsinane,' and now a wood Comes toward Dunsinane."

So with spirits and their specious promises. You will be led on, step by step, on and on, and only stop at—Rain. Resist its dreadful magnetism, for your very susceptibility proves you incompetent to deal with it with safety to yourself. Leave that to stronger wills and holy men. There is only one chance in billions that the unseen power may mean you final good. The chances are that they are dreams, clad in robes of light. Resist them, then, with all your strength, relying on God for perfect salvation; never forgetting that he helps those who help themselves.

Rely on Him, and "Be these juggling flends no more believed, That palter with us in a double sense; That keep the word of promise to our ear, And break it to our hope."

Mr. Randolph still believes that the manifestations are not universally delasions or impostures. We are not surprised at this when we consider what tremendous experience he has passed through. His intellect was all but shattered, and he has not escaped from the awful peril long enough to see clearly the nature of all the influences under which he suffered. No wonder he believes in demoniac agency! Under the soothing power of the Christian faith, he will doubt less come to the conviction, that the only demons concerned are the demons in flesh and blood, who, for their base purposes of gain and lust carry on the distentible and infamous business.—Boston Courier.

OFFICE OF THE PANAMA RAIL-ROAD COMPANY, ? The Panama Rail-Road Company takes this method of informing those interested in the Whaling business, of the advantages offered by the Railroad across the Isthmus of Panama, for the shipment of across the Isthmus of Panama, for the shipment of Oil from the Pacific to the United States, and for sending outfits and supplies from the United States to Panama.

The Railroad has been in regular and successful operation for more than two years, and its capacity for the transportation of every description of merchandise, including Oil, Provisions, &c., has been fully tested. The attention of several Captains of whaleships has recently been turned to the subject of shipping their oil from Panama to New York during the present season. and the Panama Rail-Road Company has made arrangements to afford every facility which may be required for the accomplishment of this important object. A Pier, 450 feet long, has been built in the bay of Panama, to the end of which Freight Cars are run to receive cargoes from lighters or vessels lying alongside, and deliver the same alongside of vessels at Aspinwall. Vessels of from 200 to 300 tons can lie at the Pier with safety, grounding in the mud at low water.

The vessels to and from Aspiuwali are fast-sailing brigs, belonging to the Rail-Road Company, and the Company is prepared to receive oil at Panama and deliver it in New York, under through Bills of Lading at the rate of seven cents per gallon, if received at the Pier, and eight cents per gallon if received in the harbor from ship's tackles, charging for the capacity of the casks, without allowing for wantage. For whalebone, one and one-half cents per pound. This charge covers every expense from Panama to New York, in case the oil is sent through the Superintendent or Commercial Agent of the Panama Rail-Road Company, insurance excepted. The freights may be made payable on the Isthmus or in New York at the option of the shipper.

freights may be made payable on the Isthmus or in New York at the option of the shipper.

The vessels of the Company sail regularly semi-monthly, and the average passages to and from Aspinwall are about twenty to twenty-five days. The time occupied in crossing the Ishmus is four hours. Oil, during its transit across the Isthmus, will be covered with canvas, or conveyed in covered cars, and owners may be assured that every care will be taken to prevent leakage. Several cargoes have already been conveyed to New York with out the slightest loss.

Oil or other goods consigned for transportation to the Super-intendent of the Panama Rail-Road Company, or to Williams Nelson, Commercial Agent of the Company at Panama, will be received and forwarded with the greatest despatch.
